HIRING THE MINISTRY OF STORIES

Looking for space that's a little bit different?

Hold your event, meeting or presentation at the Ministry of Stories, a unique space hidden behind Hoxton Street Monster Supplies, London's most popular shop for the living, dead and undead.

100% of the hire fee goes towards supporting our young writers.

'It was a great, inspirational space for us to be in, and the team was so energized after the day.'

Annabella, Ogilvy

WORKSHOPS, SPEAKERS AND CONSULTANCY

Want to bring a little bit of Ministry magic to your event? Our staff can create tailored workshops or inspirational presentations, to be enjoyed at the Ministry, or at a venue of your choice.

CREATIVE WORKSHOPS

Ever heard the one about Maximus the tiny ant farmer who's afraid of cats? Bring your team together with the joy of storytelling. We run fun, interactive 1–2 hour workshops that fire the imagination and get teams working together.

Great for

Team building
Festivals
Away days

"The session was enjoyed by many and certainly fired up some imaginative conversations and stories!"

Verity Sanderson,
Arts Marketing Association

SPEAKERS AND PRESENTATIONS

Co-founders Lucy Macnab and Ben Payne took an empty shop on Hoxton Street, London and – with the help of a handful of volunteers – turned it into an inspirational creative writing centre for young people. Hear from them first hand about the creativity, hard work and inspiration it took to go from two paintbrushes and an idea to an award winning arts organisation in just five years.

Great for

Conferences
Festivals
Panel discussions

CONSULTANCY

Hit a creative wall? Struggling to find a fresh way to lead workshops? Looking to learn more about the principles of teaching writing?

Our consultancy offer will help you:

- Develop learning tools to encourage creative writing
- Understand what's involved in setting up a creative non-profit like the Ministry of Stories
- Explore the principles of what makes good storytelling and how to apply it to your work
- See how mentoring skills can have a powerful impact

Book one of our Co-Directors or our Learning Manager for a one-off session or a tailored programme.
